

Report of the Seminar entitled 'Research Methodology' held on 29th March 2023

On 29th March 2023, a seminar was organized by MOOC Committee and Institutional Research Committee of RCC Institute of Information Technology in collaboration with Internal Quality Assurance Cell on the theme entitled "Research methodology" for PG students and newly joined faculties of the Institute. Prof. (Dr.) Kaushik Roy from West Bengal State University delivered the lecture on a very interesting topic 'How to Write A Technical Document' which is the requirement for all the budding researchers of this Institute. He discussed the detailed aspect of writing a quality journal paper, and briefed the significances of all the sections of paper and its significance. The speaker also explained the importance of a conference paper, and the need of IPR in context of present world. A details of literature review and its significance was discussed. He cited a few examples for which a paper may be disregarded for publication instead of qualitative supremacy. The program was technically co-sponsored by CSI Kolkata Chapter. The session was interactive. Few glimpses are given below:

Based on the feedback outcome of the program is quantified and mapped with existing mission of the Institute, which is represented in graphical form.
